

The 12 Budget Tech Fixes

That actually stop wasting your time. Each one under $75. None of them AI-slop affiliate garbage.

01. USB-C cable that actually charges fast $10

A 240W INIU USB-C cable delivers full-speed charging on phones and laptops. Cheap cables lie about wattage; this one does not.

02. Precision screwdriver kit (140-in-1) $18

Strips one screw on a laptop, phone, or controller and you've paid for the kit. Keep one in the drawer.

03. Flat-plug surge protector with USB $22

Eight outlets spaced for bulky bricks, USB ports built in, a flat plug that hides behind furniture.

04. 9-in-1 USB-C hub $20

HDMI, USB, SD, and pass-through charge from one port. Modern laptops removed ports; this puts them back.

05. SATA-to-USB adapter cable $10

Pull a drive out of a dead laptop, plug it into any USB port, read the files. No enclosure needed.

06. Microfiber cleaning cloths (18-pack) $8

Screens, glasses, camera lenses. Paper towels scratch. These do not. Buy the pack, not one.

07. Adjustable phone stand $9

Stops the daily reach-for-the-propped-up-phone. Under $10, replaces a dozen bad habits.

08. USB to 3.5mm audio adapter $8

When the jack dies or the port never existed. Cheap fix for laptops, consoles, docks.

09. USB-C to USB-A adapter (2-pack) $8

Every old flash drive, mouse, keyboard still uses USB-A. Two adapters solves it forever.

10. Clamp-on LED desk lamp $22

Puts light exactly where you need it without eating desk space. Adjustable warmth for eye comfort.

11. SanDisk Ultra 128GB microSD (2-pack) $18

Reliable storage that works in phones, cameras, Switches. Two cards is more useful than one big one.

12. Logitech C920x HD webcam $60

Built-in laptop webcams look bad. This just works, in Zoom, Teams, OBS, without drivers.

See every product with real ASIN, Amazon link, and honest tradeoff notes at stackgeist.dev/gear/budget-tech

StackGeist • stackgeist.dev • As an Amazon Associate I earn from qualifying purchases.